

work along the South Coast for instance and count the number of T.P.s, a very expensive item.

I was surprised that claims for expenses was signed off (was it a DENIAL?) so negligently.
Wishing you great success in your most task,
Yours sincerely,

Dear Sir,
13 MAY 09

With respect, and with regard to your enquiry into M.P. expenses, I have no doubt the right decisions will have been made by you and your team.

As an old man may I be permitted to quote my wise father who said in 1975 that he thought the number of T.P.s should be reduced by half and the remainder paid more to improve the quality.

With mobile phones, computers etc, I suggest he could be right.
