

We should no longer pay mortgage interest for MPs.
They should be able to combine life in London and a constituency satisfactorily, but our current system of payment provides for the accumulation of wealth, and the richer the individual the greater the profit.

Yours,

E Larkin