

Committee on Standards in Public Life
Register of Members' Interests (12 October 2011)

Members are required to disclose interests (including employment, directorships, shareholdings, offices held in charitable bodies and political activities) they or close family members have which might influence their judgement or which could be perceived (by a reasonable member of the public) to do so. Also included in the register are land and property and clients for whom services are provided relevant to the Committee's interests. See paragraphs 9-11 of the Committee's Code of Practice for Members, May 2004, for further information.
